AUGUST HERBST WAS FOND OF WOMEN.

He Was a Man Who
Had Many, Many Wives.

EIGHT OF THEM ACCOUNTED FOR.
HE WAS QUICKLY OFF WITH THE OLD LOVE AND ON WITH THE NEW.

Sensational Story Which Reads
Like a Racy French Novel.
Told by Wife Number Eight.

Annie Herbst's petition for separation from August Herbst, her husband, comprises many sensational features. She sets forth that she and the defendant were lawfully married at San Jose, Cal., on May 15, 1893, by John T. Wallace, justice of the peace; that after the marriage they resided in San Francisco for four or five weeks with the intention of making that city their permanent home. Herbst became restless and proposed to the petitioner that they go to Honolulu and reside there, as the climate in San Francisco did not agree with him. She consented. He went to purchase the tickets for Honolulu. On his return home he produced tickets by train for Seattle, Wash., where he resided in Seattle never having been broached or discussed between them.

Herbst, after a two weeks' residence in Seattle, became tired of the place and suggested to Mrs. Herbst that they work their way back to San Francisco, stopping first at Sacramento to view the capitol building. She acquiesced in his wishes and they left for Sacramento. But before going, however, Herbst had his tool chest sent to Red Bluff, intending to stay there. On the train Herbst changed his plans and both went on to Sacramento.

Then the complaint minutely narrated the peripatations of the pair collectively and separately. They went to Stockton and hired a flat and inspected property with a view of purchasing a home. At the end of a week Herbst left the petitioner. She searched high and she searched low for her missing lord. She went to San Francisco; she went to Seattle in the steamer, without means and without friends. But Herbst wasn't there. She discovered, however, that Herbst had drawn out of the bank $800 and over. The money was withdrawn, unknown to her, when they had formerly left Seattle.

The poor woman, being penniless and friendless, was obliged to resort to hard manual labor to meet her pressing wants. But she did not despair once more of meeting her dear August. On saving enough money to return to San Francisco, Mrs. Herbst again went to that city in search of her truant husband. She received two letters by the way of Stockton from her husband, who was then in Honolulu. He advised her to secure a divorce.

Mrs. Herbst resided in San Francisco until, owing to reports and rumors as to the past life of Herbst, she left for Oakland, which had been Herbst's former home. As a result of her investigation in that moral city, Mrs. Herbst found that her dear August, dear only to her, as she supposed, had had four wives in Oakland, one in Sonoma, Cal., one in Portland, Ore., and one in San Bernardino, Cal. Herbst got rid of all these wives by desertion, ill-treatment and cruelty.

Petitioner is unable to say whether Herbst had more than one wife living at one and the same time. She alleges, however, that Herbst, with various of these wives, attempted to deprive them of their property rights and failed and refused to make provision for them, resorting to dishonest and fraudulent methods to get rid of his property in order to avoid their just claims, on one occasion selling a $10,000 house for $4,000 in order to realize on the same and to beat one of his wives out of her just claims upon him for support and maintenance.

All of the charges as to Herbst's past life and his relations with other women were unknown to the petitioner at the time of her marriage and up to the time of his desertion of her, as Herbst had informed the petitioner prior to their marriage that he had had but one wife, who had died childless, whereas petitioner found upon her visit to Oakland that he had two grown up children living in Oakland by one of his many wives.

The petitioner further states that she resided in Oakland up to August 22, 1900, when she sailed for Honolulu to secure reparation and support from Herbst; that upon her arrival here in Honolulu on the 29th of August she found Herbst living with another woman as man and wife, but whether married to her or not she is unable to say.

Petitioner further alleges that respondent is a capable contractor and builder and upon information and belief alleges that he has accumulated considerable property in Honolulu and is now building a house in Nuuanu valley under contract upon which a large balance of money is shortly to be given Herbst, and that otherwise respondent has ample means to make provision for and separation to petitioner. She fears and believes, from her knowledge of Herbst and his methods, that as soon as he is aware of her presence in Honolulu he will immediately attempt to realize upon any property that he has and will make efforts to secrete and dispose of the same, and further, petitioner fears and believes that he will leave the country at once, whereby she will be deprived of all means of reparation against and support from Herbst.

The petitioner specifically charges that Herbst has neglected and neglected to provide her with the necessities of life and is either living in idleness or adultery with another woman, whose name is unknown to petitioner, and has been guilty of excessive ill-treatment toward petitioner.

Mrs. Herbst prays that she may be granted a separation from respondent, from his bed and board forever; that she be allowed support and maintenance from respondent out of his property; that a temporary injunction be issued by the court enjoining him, his servants, agents, creditors and attorneys, and each of them, from selling, disposing, secreting or removing any of his property, money or assets whatsoever within the jurisdiction of the court.

Petitioner further prays for costs and the allowance of temporary alimony of $100 a month, petitioner alleging that she has no means of support whatsoever and no funds beyond what is necessary for the immediate and temporary wants of petitioner.

Judge Humphreys has issued the temporary injunction prayed for by petitioner.

Deputy Sheriff McGinn yesterday made returns on the summons, stating that he had been informed that Herbst had gone to foreign parts to him unknown.

ULBRIGHT'S DEATH AT MAKAPUU POINT RECALLED.

HIS WIDOW PETITIONS TO BE APPOINTED GUARDIAN OF THE CHILDREN.

Judge Humphreys' Oral Decision
in the William Murray Gibson
Estate Matter Filed—Notes
From the Courts.

Emilie Ulbrecht has petitioned to be appointed guardian of Charles E. E. Ulbrecht, F. W. P. Ulbrecht and Margaret Ulbrecht, minors. The husband and father is the man who was drowned at Makapuu Point. He was employed in the Honolulu Iron works. His associates raised nearly $2,000 for the afflicted family.

Inventory in the estate of Mele Kumuokalani, deceased, has been filed. The estate is valued at $1,000.

The following oaths of office have been filed: H. D. Wishard, clerk of the Fifth circuit; Jacob Hardy, judge of the Fifth circuit; J. K. Kapuni, district magistrate, Waimea, Kauai; Z. Kahlon, district magistrate, Kawaihau, Kauai; John Kakiha, district magistrate, Hanalei, Kauai; H. K. Kahali, district magistrate, Lihue, Kauai; Charles Blake, district magistrate, Koloa, Kauai.

William O. Smith has been appointed administrator of the estate of Louis J. Bindt. The estate is valued at $5,339.45 and consists of real estate on the island of Kauai valued at $5,000 and a deposit in the Postal Savings bank of $339.45.

J. Alfred Magoon, attorney for plaintiff in the case of Sarah A. Berger vs. C. W. Booth, et al., has given notice that upon Thursday, September 13th, he shall move the court to forthwith hear the case.

The case of Benson, Smith & Co., charged with selling liquor without a license, will be heard Tuesday without a jury.

Summons was returned yesterday in the case of Leong Shee against the New Zealand Insurance Company. The case is to recover $1,400 for buildings destroyed by fire. The property was located on the west side of the prison road.

An oral decision has been filed by Judge Humphreys in the matter of the estate of Walter Murray Gibson, deceased. It orders Cecil Brown, trustee, to pay for the stamps on the conveyance of property from Mrs. Lizzie Hays to W. H. Rain. The court holds that the trustee was the vendor in the transaction. According to American law the vendor has to pay the expenses of the conveyance, which is the contrary of English law, as the judge shows.

Judge Humphreys yesterday, without transacting any business, adjourned court until tomorrow.

The Sunday Dinner.

The Union Grill, King street, has this menu for the Sunday dinner:

DINNER
COLD SERVICE
Beef Lamb

Chicken and Rice Consomme
New Beets Olives Pickles
FISH
Baked Olen a la Espagnole
EXTRAS
Braised Filet of Beef, Bearnaise
Chicken Fricassee with Peas
ROAST
Turkey Beef Lamb
VEGETABLES
Asparagus, Mayonnaise Dressing
Mashed Potatoes
DESSERT
Vanilla Ice Cream.

The card is published by Manager Lycourgs in order that people may see how the catering business has progressed lately in Honolulu. It has been made possible to offer an attractive menu, with proper surroundings and service, and the house is more than willing to inform the public on details and to offer a menu for public comparison. There was a rush at the Grill from noon yesterday to a very late hour last night, and all were served without delay on the utterance of a complaint. Manager Lycourgs says he expects a large patronage today and is prepared for it. The dinner bill speaks for itself. Heavy draft has been made on cold storage stock for the short order department.

Japanese Wrestlers.

Friday was the day observed each year in Japan as the day of the wrestling. The Japanese colony here did not let the observance of the day go past unobserved. At King and Liliue streets there were matches of all kinds going on all day long. The games continued yesterday. Many people witnessed the feats of strength in the ring, and in the evening the victor was proclaimed.

He Owes His Life to the Forethought of a Companion.

While on a camping trip in Webster county, Mr. S. I. Stump of Norman-town, Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says: "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the forethought of one of the company who had taken along a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." Moral—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It cannot be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamship and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers never leave home on a journey without it. For sale by all dealers and druggists. Benson, Smith & Co., general agents Territory of Hawaii.
